Course Description:

What is deviance? That is a good question, and one which this course is designed to answer. This course will examine how society produces deviance, how it tries to reduce deviance, and how it deals with those who act in unconventional ways—those we call deviants. We will read and discuss some of the best writings available on the subject of deviance, learn about specific deviant groups in society, and explore deviance overall. Keep your minds open, and be ready for some interesting discussions, a lot of learning, and a little hard work!

Learning Objectives:

By the end of this term, students enrolled in this class will be able to:

- Describe how sociologists study deviance, the methods they use to observe deviance, and how they draw conclusions from their observations.
- Explain the major sociological theories of deviance and be able to use them to explain why some people engage in deviant behavior while others do not.
- Apply a methodological approach to gather data on a deviant issue.

Required Course Materials:

1. Constructions of Deviance: Social Power, Context, and Interaction, edited by Patricia A. Adler and Peter Adler (7th edition – 2012)
2. Additional reading materials will be available through D2L

PREPARING FOR SUCCESS!

This course may be challenging if you are not interested in the sociological approach to deviance and social control. There is a lot of complex material to cover within a brief period of time. You must be a strong, self-directed learner with good time management skills to remain up-to-date with readings, writings, discussions, assessments. As with most college level courses, students should expect to schedule three times the course credit hours for readings, assignments, and studying. By giving yourself approximately nine hours each week throughout the term for this course, you should be on track for success.

CLASSROOM ENVIRONMENT

In this class, we will engage in discussion of a variety of issues, some of which may be considered controversial. Ideas will be our central focus. As we examine ideas, we will likely have disagreements, as some ideas are often considered controversial. It is essential that we bring an open mind and respect for others opinions to the classroom.

Our readings, films, discussions, and group activities may broach many sensitive topics, including racism, sexuality, political, and religious views. We will engage these subjects in an intellectual, yet passionate manner. However, this material may offend some students or make them feel uncomfortable. If you think your discomfort may impede your engagement with class content, please see me immediately!

Please keep in mind that the student body is diverse and always refrain from making assumptions about who is or is not around you. We all have opinions, and it is okay to respectfully disagree with other people's comments. It is also okay to engage in passionate discussion. It is not okay to engage in actions that are hostile, derogatory, or disrespectful.

Please come to class prepared to participate and engage the material via discussions and class activities. Everyone should have something to contribute in class every day. However, we should all make every effort to ensure that every student gets an opportunity to participate.

If you have something to say, please raise your hand. Chatting with your neighbor or text messaging is distracting and will inspire me to call on you. Please turn off all cell phones and other technologies.

Let's create an environment where we can all have fun and enjoy the class this term!

CLASSROOM CONDUCT

In order to promote healthy discussions and active learning, please:

- Do not talk during lecture, while other students are asking questions, or during movie/video presentations.
- Please silence cell phones, and turn off iPods, or other electronics during class.
- I do not allow computers in the class since this often provides an opportunity for students to become distracted and disengaged. If you require a computer to take notes you must provide me with a letter from the disabilities office.
- Late arrivals & early departures disrupt not only me, but also other students; therefore, if you know you will be late or need to leave early—please talk to me before class (or email me).
- Since our class is discussion-oriented, I expect you to respect and listen to everybody's opinions and perspectives. I value and respect your contributions. Please do the same for others in the class. Our class is a space free of sexist, racist or other offensive comments.

Contacting the Instructor

If you send me an email at esterlin@kennesaw.edu, please always include "DEVIANCE – YOUR NAME" in the subject line in order to ensure a response! I will also have limited time to meet in person while I'm on campus. These meetings are by appointment only and must be scheduled at least 24 hours in advance.

It is my goal to be a responsive educator and replying to your emails in a timely manner. However, just as I respect that students are usually balancing school schedules with work and family, I ask for your understanding regarding my response time as well. I do try to check my email at least twice a day Monday through Friday (once in the morning and once late afternoon or early evening) so I'm usually able to respond within 24 hours, although occasionally due to my schedule, it might take up to 48 to 72 hours. I do not typically check my email from late Friday afternoon until Monday morning so please do not expect an immediate response from me on the weekends or school holidays. In terms of grading, I usually provide feedback and scores within two weeks, although it is usually quicker.

If you are having a problem with your performance in this course, please schedule an appointment with me as soon as possible so that together we can figure out what needs to be done. I am willing to help solve any problem you might experience involving this course, except failure to read the assigned materials or missing class.

1. EXAMS – 30% of total grade: 9/15, 10/20, 12/6

Three (3) tests will be administered during this course. The test will consist of 10 short-essay questions. Additionally, exams are largely applied scenarios which require critical thinking skills rather than just memorizing and regurgitating information. These tests are not cumulative, and each test will cover only material presented since the last test. However, you may be required to incorporate concepts learned throughout the term.

2. READING QUIZZES (15% of total grade): weekly

For each class requiring text book reading, you will be required to complete an online reading quiz consisting of 5 questions addressing that class' assigned readings. You will have 10 minutes to complete this quiz so please make sure you read the material BEFORE you attempt the quiz. These quizzes will be posted in D2L at least one week prior to the date of discussion. Each quiz MUST be completed ONLINE in D2L before our class period including those particular readings. In order to facilitate productive in class discussions, reading the material before class is imperative. These quizzes will not only promote reading before class, but it will also help you learn the material for the short-essay exams. We will be covering a lot of material this semester, including a wide range of readings so it is easier to assess you on the readings as we go along rather than expect you to memorize everything at the end for an exam. Overall, I will post about 14 different online reading quizzes throughout the semester and will only count the highest 9 grades towards your final grade.

3. ALL ABOUT ME AND MY DEVIANCE PAPER (5% of total grade) DUE: 8/25

In order to facilitate an understanding of what it means to be deviant as well as better get to know you and your writing style, early on in the semester, you will write a short (2-3 page) paper applying deviance to your own life and behavior. Because we will be discussing these papers as a class, please do not share anything in your paper that you don't want shared with the rest of the class. Detailed instructions will be provided later.

4. DEVIANCE PAPER – 30% of total grade DUE IN 4 PARTS

This paper will explore a topic related to deviance and a scripted media depiction of this deviance. You will initially engage with academic literature (beyond course depiction of this deviance) to establish a foundational understanding of your topic and what is "known." From here, you will then observe and analyze a media depiction of this deviance. Often the media offers a biased and unrealistic depiction that skews cultural interpretations and understanding of such deviance [If one were to regularly watch Law & Order: Special Victims Unit, you may have a skewed statistical risk of experiencing crime/sexual assault in NYC; If one were to watch Scandal, one may have an unrealistic perspective of politician's sexual lives; If one were to regularly watch Queer as Folk, one may have an unrealistic perspective of the sexual behaviors of gay men; If one were to regularly watch Breaking Bad or Weeds, one may have an unrealistic perspective of drug production and sales; And so forth]. Given that for many, American television provides our “insight” into other deviant groups or behaviors, assumptions are made about the legitimacy of these portrayals that may or may not actually reflect reality.

A. Part 1: DEVIANCE TOPIC AND RESEARCH CITATIONS – (5%) DUE: 9/8

Herein, you will submit a 1-2 page document where you will indicate your chosen deviance topic; a list of academic sources (in appropriate citation style...ASA or APA!); and a brief description of the media source (film or television program) that you plan to examine.

To clarify academic source expectations: You will need to engage with at least 4 outside academic sources from peer-reviewed journals (you may reference course materials, but these do not count towards your 4 sources, but ought to be cited of course!). Academic sources should be dated from 2000-2014, articles are expected to be approximately 20 pages in length each (you may use shorter sources, but need to compensate with additional sources so the total number of pages equals approximately 80 pages), articles should be relevant to the sociology of deviance (i.e. you should stay with sociological journals as much as possible). Depending on your topic, it might be appropriate to draw some content from other fields (i.e., if you are exploring bipolar disorder, you should focus content from the sociology field, but one or two sources from psychology journals might be appropriate). Journal articles that explore your selected deviance in a cultural context not relevant to your media portrayal are not appropriate (i.e., if you are examining “polygamy,” an article about polygamy in Northern African is not appropriate for analyzing the television program Big Love). Biblical and religious text references are not academic and are not appropriate for this assignment.

To clarify media source expectations: You will be engaging with a popular portrayal of your selected deviance and critically address the difficulties or biases presented. The media you engage should total approximately 2 hours in length (perhaps a single film or several episodes of a television program—you are to examine “popular”/scripted mainstream media. Documentary film and “edu-tainment television (i.e, not scripted topic educational television programs, such as Hoarders, My Strange Addiction, etc.) are not appropriate for this assignment. Some “reality” programs (which are not scripted per say, such as Breaking Amish or Sister Wives) may be appropriate for analysis and require advance instructor approval.

To sum up, this submission will include: 1) Deviance you plan to analyze; 2) Appropriate formatted list of at least 4 citations; 3) Media source (and a brief source synopsis; if using a synopsis found online, be certain to quote appropriately and cite the source). Total length of this assignment: 1-2 pages.

B. Part 2: DEVIANCE LITERATURE REVIEW – (10%) DUE: 10/6

The 2nd major submission will be a 3-4 page literature review of your deviance topic. Using the academic resource you collected in Part 1, you are to write a clear, concise paper presenting what is “known” academically about your topic. I discourage heavy quoting from your academic sources, though some may be appropriate. It is preferred that you demonstrate synthesis and understanding of the literature. It is expected that all sources used will be properly cited within this paper.

To be certain to avoid plagiarism, always quote and cite appropriately. Course materials may also be helpful. Also, remember the writing center is available to provide additional support. Be certain to include a complete reference list at the end of this paper (reference pages do not count to the page content expectations).

To sum up, this submission will include: 1) 3-4 page literature review on topic; 2) Appropriate citation page. Total length: 3-4 pages of content plus reference page(s)

C. Part 3: DEVIANCE IN POPULAR MEDIA – (10%) DUE: 11/15

The 3rd major submission should run 3-4 pages in length and is a critical analysis of your deviance as portrayed in your media source. It is likely appropriate to refer back to some content in your research/literature review—when doing so, be certain to cite properly (and attach reference pages as appropriate). Your media source(s) should also be fully cited (if you are using multiple television episodes, cite each episode).

To sum up, this submission will include: 1) 3-4 page analysis paper on deviance portrayal in your selected media; 2) appropriate reference/citation page(s). Total length: 3-4 pages of content plus reference page(s).

D. Part 4: DEVIANCE PAPER PRESENTATION – (5%) DUE: 11/15, 11/17, 11/29, 12/1

Each student will have 5-7 minutes to present highlights from their deviance research. A few short PowerPoint slides can be used, although this is not mandatory. Overall, students should describe the chosen deviance issue, explain why it is considered “deviant,” what the current research says about this deviance, how their media example portrays this deviance, as well as be able to answer any questions from classmates or the instructor. Volunteers will be allowed to present first followed by randomly selected students.

5. SMALL GROUP ARTICLE PRESENTATIONS – 2 Times per Semester--10% of total grade

In order to help students engage with the material, each student will be assigned an article to present and discuss as part of a small group to the rest of the class during Modules 2 and 3. We will be covering a wide range of deviant behaviors and complex issues related to deviance and social control. Each student, as part of a small group, will be required to lead a class discussion on one of the assigned article TWICE during these semester. Each discussion leader small group will be expected to 1) Provide a one page written summary of the article (a template for this will be provided later); 2) Provide a 10-15 minute presentation outlining WHAT HAVE YOU LEARNED ABOUT DEVIANCE FROM THIS ARTICLE (this should involve critical thinking and NOT just a summary of the article!); and 3) Write three questions appropriate to stimulate a class discussion. Students must attend the classes for which they are assigned to present and discuss in order to receive credit for this assignment. No make ups will be provided. Sign-ups for individual presentation topics and articles will be done on a first come first serve basis in class on an assigned date. A presentation template will be provided at this time as well.

6. ATTENDANCE, PARTICIPATION, AND PREPAREDNESS – 10% of total grade

This course is designed as an upper division seminar in which participation from all students is necessary if everyone is to benefit. Therefore, a portion of the final grade will be based on the quality and appropriately relative frequency of participation, which is assumed will be based on careful reading of all assigned materials. Students are expected to do the readings thoroughly before the class for which it is assigned and to be prepared to actively participate in class discussions and activities. Much of the outcome of this course will depend on your commitment and dedication to the work.

Attendance will be taken in every class. Absences as defined by the University Senate (serious illness, illness or death of an immediate family member, university related trips, major religious holidays) will be excused WITH PROPER DOCUMENTATION. Every student is expected to attend and participate in class.

In order to calculate this portion of your grade, I will take attendance as well as assess assignments in class group work/discussions throughout the semester. If you are in class, arrive on time and prepared to participate individually or with your group, you will receive full credit. If not, you will receive partial credit or a zero. You are allowed up to four absences before it will negatively impact your grade. I will document attendance at the BEGINNING OF CLASS only! If you are late or leave early, you will earn partial credit for the time in class. Four late arrivals or leaving early's will constitute a full absence. After four absences, 10 points will be deducted from your attendance, participation and preparedness for each additional absence.

POLICIES FOR WRITTEN WORK:

All written papers must be typed, double-spaced, using 12-point Times New Roman font, with one-inch margins, and must include page numbers, your name and class, title of the assignment, and proper use of citations and references. Please remove the "extra space" between paragraphs. Since this is a sociology class, please use ASA citation style. (See <http://www.asanet.org/students/index.cfm> for a link to ASA Quick Style Guide.

All papers must uploaded as a digital copy to the dropbox in D2L BEFORE the beginning of class on the due date. Please double and triple check to ensure you have uploaded the correct version of your paper. Also, please verify in D2L that your paper was properly uploaded before the deadline (you should receive an email receipt). I will not grant any extensions or accept excuses for wrong versions or those that I am not able to open.

If you have a personal or family emergency and are unable to complete an assignment, you must speak with me as soon as possible so we can discuss how and when you will complete the assignment. Do not assume that you will be granted an extension.

I encourage you to use the KSU Writing Center. It is a free services offered to all KSU students. They offer experienced writing assistants who will work with you throughout the writing process on topic development, revision, research, documentation, grammar, and more. For more information or to make an appointment (appointments are strongly encouraged), visit www.kennesaw.edu/english/WritingCenter or stop by Room 242 in the English Building.

A note on plagiarism: I check all papers for plagiarism through TurnItIn so please cite all your references when you paraphrase. If you use direct quotes, you must place the quote in parenthesis and provide the citation with the page number. If you are caught plagiarizing (which includes turning in work that is not your own as well as turning in a paper written previously for another class), you will receive a zero for the assignment, maybe fail the class (depending on the infraction), and appropriate judicial processes will be initiated. All work produced should be researched and written by you alone and original to this specific class. If you have any questions or concerns about what constitutes as plagiarism, please talk to me right away. See academic integrity statement below.

Highlights and Review Days

I have included a few “Highlights and Review Days” for the class immediately preceding the exam. The purpose of this class is to expand further on any interesting topics, provide the opportunity to apply key concepts, and/or answer any questions about the covered topics. I may supplement the course with additional relevant videos and/or guest speakers during these days as well. It also gives us flexibility without affecting the rest of the schedule if class is unexpectedly canceled or cut short for any unforeseen circumstances. I expect that all students will attend these important classes as information shared during these classes will also be included on your tests.

Being Late or Missing Class

As with any college level course, regular class attendance is expected. Additionally, I expect you to be on time for each class. Remember that four times late to class or leaving early will constitute a full absence. Many of the exam questions will be drawn from the lectures and discussions so it is essential you attend every class in order to do well in this course. I do understand that occasionally life happens that may interfere with you coming to class. If you must miss a class, you do not need to provide me with an explanation. More importantly, do not ask me whether you missed anything important (if the material you missed wasn’t important, it wouldn’t have been covered in class). Do not ask me for lecture notes—ask your classmates. I will assume that you are serious about class, and I presume that if you miss class you have a very good reason (i.e., you are very sick, caring for someone who is very sick, etc.). If your absences become chronic, or you anticipate chronic absences then it’s time to consult with me. All that said, if you blow off class and do so on a regular basis, your grades will suffer (please see aforementioned section on Attendance, Preparation and Preparedness grade for more details).

If we have to cancel class due to snow or inclement weather or any other reasons, all assignments will still be due on the deadline via D2L or scheduled exams will be given at the very next class period.

Late Assignments & Excuses

Due dates for assignments are non-negotiable, and all assignments must be completed on time. You are given plenty of notification regarding all assignment due dates, including assessments. Do not miss the due dates as no changes or extensions will be granted without prior approval due to an extreme emergency. You will receive a zero for missed quizzes, exams or in class presentations, and no partial credit will be given. For written assignments, 10 points will be deducted for each day or partial day that the assignment is late after the deadline. All assignments must be turned in by the beginning of class on the date it is due. Do NOT fax me, leave your assignment under any door, in any wall pocket outside a door, or mailbox.

Only an extreme emergency with documentation (such as an accident report or emergency room receipt copies sent to me) will be considered. In these cases only, you MUST contact me before the due date or exam date or immediately afterwards if the emergency occurred on your way to class.

Extra Credit

I do not provide individual opportunities for extra credit or to earn “extra points” as I want you to focus on all your graded assignments. In rare instances, I might curve an exam if there are particular questions that nearly all the students missed.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY STATEMENT

Every KSU student is responsible for upholding the provisions of the Student Code of Conduct, as published in the Undergraduate and Graduate Catalogs, Section II of the Student Code of Conduct addresses the university’s policy on academic honesty, including provisions regarding plagiarism and cheating, unauthorized access to University materials, misrepresentation/falsification of University records or academic work, malicious removal, retention, or destruction of library materials, malicious/intentional misuse of computer facilities and/or services, and misuse of student identification cards. Incidents of alleged academic misconduct will be handled through the established procedures of the University Judiciary Program, which includes either an “informal” resolution by a faculty member, resulting in a grade adjustment, or a formal hearing procedure, which may subject a student to the Code of Conduct’s minimum one semester suspension requirement. The full policy is published at the following link: (<https://web.kennesaw.edu/scaj/content/ksu-student-code-conduct>)

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Any student with a documented disability needing academic adjustments is requested to notify the instructor as early in the semester as possible. Verification from the KSU Student Disability Services is required. All discussions will remain confidential. For more information, please contact Student Disability Services at <http://sss.kennesaw.edu/sds/>

ENROLLMENT STATUS:

Students are solely responsible for managing their enrollment status in a class; nonattendance does not constitute a withdrawal. Please refer to the official KSU policy for potential reimbursement if you withdraw from a class.

READING ASSIGNMENTS AND CLASS SCHEDULE

I plan to follow the course schedule listed below as closely as possible. If changes are necessary during the semester, I will announce them in advance in class and on D2L. Please read the specified material in the text prior to the dates on which they will be discussed. I expect that you will come to class prepared to discuss assigned course material. You will be responsible for all assigned readings, whether they are explicitly covered in class or not. Please ask questions about any information presented in texts or lectures.

HOPE YOU ENJOY THE CLASS!
