I. BASIC COURSE INFORMATION

Course Description:

This course is an overview and survey of sociological, psychological, and psychiatric understandings of and modes of treatment of mental disorders. This course presents a history of the mentally disordered as well as the forces of age, gender, marital status, race, ethnicity, geographical forces, and political factors on mental health. This course will attempt to address the relative effect of biological versus social forces as determinants of mental disorders. This course will also examine the societal response of mental disorders, specifically government policies, services, and programs, in the United States and other nations. Prerequisite: All students enrolled in this course must have taken SOCI 1101: Introduction to Sociology or PSYC 1101: General Psychology; Credits: 3-0-3

Learning Objectives:

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- Describe the history of mental illness and treatment.
- Explain the emergence and application of specific categories of mental disorders.
- Discuss the integration of social and biomedical approaches to mental illness.
- Evaluate the origins and consequences of social policies toward mental disorders.
- Apply the sociological approaches to mental health and illness.
- Examine the experience of mental illness and treatment.

Required Course Materials:

1. Cockerham, William C. 2014. The Sociology of Mental Disorder (9th Edition). Upper Saddle River, NJ: Prentice-Hall. ISBN: 978-0205913879
2. Additional reading materials will be available through D2L

Required Technology and Technical Skills

Online learners will need a computer, internet access, basic software (such as Microsoft Office Suite, Windows Media Player, Quicktime movie player, anti-virus protection and a compatible browser), and auxiliary equipment (such as a webcam and microphone headset for video-based communication). Of course, technology needs will vary by course. But this list applies to the majority of courses.

- Computer: Distance Learners will need reliable access to a desktop or laptop computer that has adequate memory and processing capabilities for large file downloads, video players, and synchronous meeting applications.
- Auxiliary Equipment: The Distance Learning Center also strongly recommends a WebCam and Headset for video-based communication. Many newer laptop or monitor set-ups are pre-equipped. These items may be required by faculty on a course-by-course basis.
- Internet Access: Online courses at KSU use the web to deliver courses at a distance. So, to learn in an online course smoothly, you need a high-speed Internet connection (such as DSL, Broadband, etc). This is especially important to the distance learning experience.
- Software: While this will vary by course, you will need a recent version of the Microsoft Office Suite. Access to MS Word, MS PowerPoint, and MS Excel are expected and necessary for viewing course material or completing assignments. Additional requirements include anti-virus protection, Windows Media Player, QuickTime movie player, and a compatible browser. Visit UITS Training for additional information on software training, compatibility and available downloads. UITS: <http://uits.kennesaw.edu/>

PREPARING FOR SUCCESSFUL ONLINE CLASS!

The online format of this course requires that you have a hard-wired (not wireless) high speed Internet, and already possess the basic knowledge on Internet usage (such as browsers and navigation). In addition, students should have access in multiple locations, such as home, work, campus, and/or residences of family members or friends).

This course may be challenging if you are not interested in multidisciplinary perspective on mental illness. There is a lot of complex material to cover within a brief period of time. You must be a strong, self-directed learner with good time management skills to remain up-to-date with readings, writing, and D2L assessments. As with most college level courses, students should expect to schedule three times the course credit hours for readings, assignments, and studying. By giving yourself approximately nine hours each week throughout the term for this course, you should be on track for success.

1. COURSE INTRODUCTIONS -- 5% of total grade DUE: no later than 1/18

Part 1: Online Introduction:

This is a two-part assignment worth 5% your total grade. First, you will offer a brief introduction to the class via the online discussion board—this introduction should be relatively concise, but offer a general introduction of yourself to your classmates. Generally speaking, this would take the form a solid paragraph and would engage some information about what you are majoring in, perhaps your status/year, career/job information if relevant, why you are interested in the sociology of mental illness, and maybe a few quirky or interesting things about yourself.

Additionally, please post a photo to your D2L profile (this occurs in the main D2L page where you logged in – under “My Settings” then “Profile”). Seeing your photo helps me feel more connected to you as a student and helps me more readily recognize someone—particularly in receiving emails and reading the discussion boards. If for some reason you do not wish to post a personal picture of yourself, please feel free to post another image of personal significance, or you could create a “cartoon” version of yourself online as well

Part 2: Introduction Paper for Instructor:

The 2nd part of this assignment will be to write a more formal longer self-introduction that is intended solely for the instructor (hopefully it is clear that this should be different in tone and structure from your online introduction). This introduction should be minimally one page in length, but should not exceed two pages. Overall, it is not to your benefit to skimp on content/length on any course paper.

In this introduction to the instructor, you might include some of the aspects also on the discussion board, but you should expand and offer more in depth information on yourself. Herein, you might speak more at length about now only where you stand academically currently, but what aspirations you have for the future as far as education and career? What aspects of the course are you particularly interested in topically? What do you think the biggest challenges will be for you in terms of taking an online course? You may share some of your family/social background if you feel it is useful, especially how you will fit this online class into your existing schedule, responsibilities, and obligations. This is fairly open-ended but is intended to help me to “know” you better and be better able to offer appropriate guidance and feedback over the course of the semester. Please write this as a more formal introductory topic (paragraph format, not stream of consciousness, etc.). Additionally, this introduction will also help me to gauge your writing skills to hopefully advise in advance if the writing center would be a resource you should consider before submitting the final course project paper. While content is a central aspect of how papers will be evaluated, grammar and structure are also important aspects of writing, especially in an upper level course. Writing skills should be constantly growing and developing to prepare you for written communication in the working/professional world. Obviously, writing skills will be particularly important in an online course where nearly all interactions will be in written form!

2. EXAMS – 45% of total grade (15% Exam #1; 15% Exam #2; 15% Exam #3)

Three (3) exams will be administered during this course. All exams will be open book, open notes and will consist of 50 multiple choice, T/F and/or matching. All material included on the exam will come from your textbook, lecture slides, and any other assigned material. You will have 80 minutes to complete the exam. These exams are not cumulative, and each exam will cover only material presented since the last exam. However, you may be required to incorporate concepts learned throughout the term. Additionally, exams are largely applied scenarios which require critical thinking skills rather than just memorizing and regurgitating information. You will have a limited amount of time to complete the exam online (80 minutes) so you will need to be a strong self-directed learner; pace yourself; stay current in readings and assignments; and prepare for the exam ahead of time. Waiting until the exam to go over the material and learn the concepts will not prove successful. Exam dates include: #1: 2/6-2/12; #2: 3/13-3/19; #3: 5/1-5/7

3. WRITING ASSIGNMENTS – Must complete 2 out of 3 assignments (15% each = 30% of total grade)

During this course, three (3) different writing assignments will be assigned—one for each module. You must complete TWO of these three writing assignments. It is your choice as to which TWO you complete. Each writing assignment will count 15% of your grade for a total of 30% percent for the two assignments. Each assignment should be 4-5 FULL pages in length and encourages you to investigate “What does it mean to have mental illness in our society. The minimum length is 4 FULL pages. More details and grading rubrics for each assignment will be posted in D2L. Please read below for policies on written work.

PICK TWO OUT OF THREE WRITING ASSIGNMENTS TO COMPLETE:

Writing Assignment #1: Weeks 1-4

Topic: A Mini-Literature Review of a specific Mental Illness

Due Date: 2/5 (Week #4)

Please see “Writing Assignment #1” instructions for more details and a grading rubric in D2L.

Writing Assignment #2: Weeks 6-9

Topic: Book Review of a Biography of a Person Living with Mental Illness

Due Date: 3/12 (Week #9)

Please see “Writing Assignment #2” instructions for more details and a grading rubric in D2L.

Writing Assignment #3: Weeks 11-14

Topic: A Media Analysis which Portrays Mental Illness

Due Date: 4/30 (Week #15)

Please see “Writing Assignment #3” instructions for more details and a grading rubric in D2L.

4. DISCUSSION BOARDS – 20% of total grade DUE: Weekly

While your responses won't be graded per se, points are earned for proper participation each week. In the discussion boards, students are REQUIRED to post to every discussion board by responding to the weekly question about that specific week's content. These questions will encourage you to apply what you have learned through the readings. Additionally, you must also reply to at least two other posts with more details, examples, or corrections based on the course content. A total of 15 Discussion Boards will be posted throughout the term (one for each of the 13 weeks of content plus a midterm board during module #7 and a final course discussion board during module #15). Essentially, each completed discussion board participation will count for about 1% of your final grade. No partial credit or extensions will be granted for discussion board participation—it is either 100% (you participated by both answering the weekly question and responding to at least two other posts within the assigned dates) or 0% (you did not complete both of these things). Discussion boards must be completed by the end of the assigned week. No extensions will be provided.

Discussion Board Posts Grading Requirements

You can locate the discussion boards by clicking on "Communication with Your Teacher and Classmates" from the Home Page as well as through each week in the separate module folders. In order to get credit for participating in the Discussion Boards, you need to both 1) Post at least once with a thoughtful response to the weekly question posted by the Instructor and 2) Provide a thoughtful response to TWO of you classmates' responses offering additional detail.

POSTING—The Instructor will post an open-ended thought-provoking question based on the week's topic and readings to stimulate discussion. Your response should include a descriptive topic written in the subject line to clearly give others a sense of the discussion. In the body of your post, focus on original thought and opinion about the material. To further show your understanding, provide an original real-world example or personal experience which supports or refutes the material. EACH POSTING SHOULD BE NO LESS THAN 10 SUBSTANTIVE LINES.

REPLIES—There can be multiple replies to each post, as long as each reply remains focused on the original topic and continues to extend the conversation. Your replies should clearly state if you agree or disagree with the substance of the original post, extend the conversation with additional original thought or opinion about the material, and clearly provide another unique original real-world example or personal experience which supports or refutes the position. AGAIN, EACH REPLY SHOULD BE NO LESS THAN 10 SUBSTANTIVE LINES.

5. OPTIONAL CHAPTER QUIZZES – Extra Credit

These quizzes are to assist you with your general comprehension of the material. As a result, questions are largely definitional. However, the quizzes are not necessarily indicative of what will be on the exam. You will still need to prepare for applying what you have learned. Although some weeks do not contain a quiz, most of the weeks, especially those with a lot of complex, material do, and I encourage you to take all of these quizzes. Each week, a new quiz will be posted corresponding with that module's book readings and PPT lecture slides and must be completed before the next exam is posted in order to receive credit. However, I encourage you to take them on a weekly basis in order to stay current with the material and not fall behind.

In terms of grading, if you complete ALL quizzes for that particular module and score at least 60% on each, you will receive 5 POINTS OF EXTRA CREDIT on the next exam. You will have two chances to take each quiz if needed. All quizzes must be completed by the last day of the week directly preceding the module exam availability.

“OPTIONAL” READINGS AND RESOURCES

For each module, I will post optional readings, links, videos and resources for those students interested in learning more about the topic. Information from these readings will not be included in any of your graded assignments. However, these readings will contain important information that will help you better understand the sociological significance of mental illness which you will find beneficial if you decide to continue your education and/or work in this field.

Late Assignments & Excuses

Due dates for exams, quizzes, and discussion boards are non-negotiable, and all assignments must be completed on time. You will be given plenty of notification regarding assignment due dates and all assignments will remain posted for a set period of time. Do not miss the expiration dates as no changes or extensions will be granted. In terms of written assignments, late work will be accepted with a 10 point late penalty assigned for each day late. All written assignments must be submitted through D2L before the due date to be considered on-time. Only an extreme emergency with documentation (such as an accident report or emergency room receipt copies sent to me as a .pdf or .jpg file in D2L email) will be considered. In these cases only, you MUST contact me before the due date. Warning: doctor notes must cover the entire time an exam or assignment was available online and must also be accompanied by a visit receipt date during (not after) the assignment availability time.

What if I have a technology problem?

It is your responsibility to pace and complete the work on schedule. Sometimes circumstances beyond our control (such as upgrades, software and/or hardware failure, and/or computer incompatibility) prevent us from using D2L. Note that computer/technical failure and/or waiting too late to complete the assignment DOES NOT EXCUSE YOU from completing the course assignments and requirements on time. You know the course schedule for graded items now, each is available for an extended period of time, and you have enough notice to make sure your work is completed. It is best to work early in case you have to try again before the deadline.

Grading Turn Around Times

In terms of grading, I usually provide feedback and scores within two weeks, although it is usually quicker. All grades are posted in D2L.

Letter Grade Assignment

Grades are “earned” and are not arbitrarily “granted” in this class. Thus, unless I make an error in calculation, I will not change your grade at the end of the semester for scholarship eligibility, graduation requirements, or any other reason. Final grades assigned for this course will be calculated based on the percentages explained above and are assigned as follows:

- A = 90-100 = Excellent; Far exceeds expectations
- B = 80-89 = Good; Exceeds expectations
- C = 70-79 = Satisfactory; Meets minimum requirements
- D = 60-69 = Passing work less than satisfactory
- F = 59 and Below = Failing; Unsatisfactory Work

III. COURSE POLICIES

TAKING EXAMS ON D2L

The easiest way to find exams on D2L is to click on the QUIZZES button. An alternative way is from the Course Home and click LEARNING MODULES--the last week of each of the three Modules (Weeks 5, 10, and 16) contain the link to the Exam. During each “exam week,” the exam will remain posted on D2L at the beginning of the week so you will have seven full days to access and complete the exam. Read through all the instructions the first time you take the exam. Then, click on START QUIZ. When prompted to finish, submit for grading.

VERY IMPORTANT – Do not complete the exam wirelessly! D2L may not record your answers, yet your attempt will be used. Instead, use a hard-wired connection.

ALSO VERY IMPORTANT—You have only one chance to complete the exam, and there is a time limit (80 minutes). Keep track of your time remaining by looking at the timer.

VERY, VERY IMPORTANT—The exams are scored electronically. You have one chance to choose or change the response. You must click to save the answer for each question and get to the next question. Be sure a checkmark appears for each question before submitting. Do not click on the next question unless you choose not to respond to a question. Otherwise, in any of these situations, D2L will score you zero points on each unanswered and/or unsaved question; I have no way of correcting your error, making your e-score final.

MOST IMPORTANT—EMAIL ME IMMEDIATELY IF YOU ENCOUNTER ANY EXAM PROBLEMS! I will make a point to check my email more often (including on the weekend and after hours) during the exam period.

EVEN MORE IMPORTANT—Even though these exams are open book and open notes (due to the nature of an online course), these exams are not designed for you to look up each questions as you take the exam. You MUST complete all the readings and assignments well before the exam date AND study thoroughly beforehand (I have a study guide posted in the “exam week” folder). These exams should also be an accurate reflection of your own work and effort, so do not plan to work with anyone else (in class or outside of class) while taking these exams as it will be considered cheating and be subjected to academic integrity policies, including earning a zero for the exam, failing the class, and any other appropriate judicial processes.

POLICIES FOR WRITTEN WORK:

All written papers must be typed, double-spaced, using 12-point Times New Roman font, with one-inch margins, and must include page numbers, your name and class, title of the assignment, and proper use of citations and references. Please remove the “extra space” between paragraphs (if using Word, under “home” the “paragraph,” in the dropdown, there is a box you can check “Don’t add space between paragraphs of the same style”). Additionally, titles/heading should not be excessive—and any cover page is not included in the total number of pages. Failure to adhere to these guidelines may result in a grade deduction as per the grading rubric. Since this is a sociology class, please use ASA citation style. (See <http://www.asanet.org/students/index.cfm> for a link to ASA Quick Style Guide.

All papers must uploaded as a digital copy to the dropbox in D2L BEFORE the beginning of class on the due date. Your paper must be saved and uploaded with your name in the title. Document uploaded should be saved as “LastName, FirstName—Name of Assignment.” For example: Sterling, Evelina—Writing Assignment #1. Failure to save and submit you file with correct label may result in a grade deduction as per the rubric. Please double and triple check to ensure you have uploaded the correct version of your paper. Also, please verify in D2L that your paper was properly uploaded before the deadline (you should receive an email receipt). I will not grant any extensions or accept excuses for wrong versions or those that I am not able to open.

If you have a personal or family emergency and are unable to complete an assignment, you must speak with me as soon as possible so we can discuss how and when you will complete the assignment. Do not assume that you will be granted an extension, and all late papers will be subjected to a late penalty.

I encourage you to use the KSU Writing Center. It is a free services offered to all KSU students. They offer experienced writing assistants who will work with you throughout the writing process on topic development, revision, research, documentation, grammar, and more. For more information or to make an appointment (appointments are strongly encouraged), visit www.kennesaw.edu/english/WritingCenter or stop by Room 242 in the English Building.

A note on plagiarism: I check all papers for plagiarism through TurnItIn so please cite all your references when you paraphrase. If you use direct quotes, you must place the quote in parenthesis and provide the citation with the page number. If you are caught plagiarizing (which includes turning in work that is not your own as well as turning in a paper written previously for another class), you will receive a zero for the assignment, maybe fail the class (depending on the infraction), and appropriate judicial processes will be initiated. All work produced should be researched and written by you alone and original to this specific class. If you have any questions or concerns about what constitutes as plagiarism, please talk to me right away. See academic integrity statement below.

COMMUNICATION:

Contacting the Instructor

You are required to utilize your D2L account and check it regularly for periodic communications. D2L email is the best way to personally communicate with me. If you send me an email at esterlin@kennesaw.edu, please always include “Mental Illness Online – YOUR NAME” in the subject line in order to ensure a response! For general questions that are not private, please post it in the “Ask Dr. Sterling” Discussion Board. I will also have time to meet in person while I’m on campus as well as by telephone, chats or video conferencing on D2L. These meetings are by appointment only and must be scheduled at least 24 hours in advance.

Email Responses

It is my goal to be a responsive educator and replying to your emails in a timely manner. However, just as I respect that students are usually balancing school schedules with work and family, I ask for your understanding regarding my response time as well. I do try to check my email and the D2L site at least twice a day Monday through Friday (once in the morning and once late afternoon or early evening) so I’m usually able to respond within 24 hours, although occasionally due to my schedule, it might take up to 48 to 72 hours. I do not typically check my email from late Friday afternoon until Monday morning so please do not expect an immediate response from me on the weekends or school holidays.

Connecting with Your Classmates

Just because this is online class, I still encourage you to interact with your classmates. Often, they are a great source of information and assistance, especially when you cannot reach me immediately. The best place to reach out to fellow students is on the “Student Cyber Café.” This non-graded area of the course is the proper place for students to help each other about something covered in the syllabus, the schedule, or where to find something in the course D2L site. Postings and replies should be information beneficial for all students. Do not spam the class with non-course related information under any circumstance! Also, remember these messages are not private! Although virtual communication may be less threatening, be cautious not to share inappropriate personal details. Always maintain professionalism, academic integrity, proper netiquette, and all course policies and procedures are in effect. Discussions will be monitored, and the instructor reserves the right to delete problematic postings and/or prevent an individual student from posting again.
